msl | michael sing lawyers is excited to announce the expansion of their family law department to include Amy Sanders-Robbins as part of the team in Brisbane.

Amy Sanders-Robbins has practised exclusively in family law for over three years.

She is a staunch advocate for her clients and has a diligent and relentless approach to fight exceptionally hard to achieve client goals.

Amy's approach echoes the culture of the msl family law team, who have demonstrated their abilities as formidable litigators with strong trial capacity, and ability to obtain exceptional results.

Amy has proven experience in producing quick and cost-effective outcomes.

The msl family law team, which includes lawyers who are qualified psychologists and an accredited mediator, welcomes Amy who also holds degrees in Law and Behaviour Science from Griffith University.

"These qualifications have provided Amy with a unique skill set that enables her to easily build rapport with her clients and to bring a holistic approach to an often challenging time in one's life," said Michael Sing, Managing Partner of msl.

Ms Sanders-Robbins joins a dedicated team with diligence, integrity and a high standard of legal expertise.

With an expertise in child protection, domestic violence and de facto property matters, Amy has a meticulous approach to all of her cases.

Amy has also been a volunteer Solicitor with the Nundah Community Legal Service for over two years and brings a range of experience to msl.

msl is one of Queensland's largest full-service law firms with award winning offices located in Brisbane CBD and on the Gold Coast.

msl has been recognised for its achievements and was highly placed in the Queensland 400, an award naming the 400 best performing private companies for the year by Queensland Business Review. With a professional team of more than 70 staff in both the Gold Coast and Brisbane offices, msl now incorporates Australian Migration Lawyers and Workplace Law Queensland.

What differentiates msl from other firms is their reputation for providing the highest level of service, expert legal advice and ensuring every client receives personalised attention.
